Visiting Twelve Mormon Homes. Because of Mr. Kane's friendship with Brigham Young, he often visited the Utah territory. President Young invited Thomas and his wife Elizabeth and their two youngest sons to winter with him in St. George, Utah in 1872-1873. The invitation was accepted in part due to Kane's ill-health and the prospect of a comfortable winter situation.

Visiting Twelve Homes of Members of the Church of Jesus

Kane's book Twelve Mormon Homes Visited in Succession on a Journey through Utah to Arizona, consisted of her letters home and her personal travel journal. This specific travel account described her time traveling through Salt Lake City to St. George. Each of the twelve homes she visited was a stop for food and lodging on the way.
